

Holmes Education Group launches Holmes Institute Dublin

A new third-level provider has received approval to commence operations in Dublin from May.

Holmes Institute Dublin (www.hid.ie) will accept their first cohort of students on to a BA (Honours) Business programme, awarded by Quality and Qualifications Ireland (QQI), on 16th May 2022. Following a recent decision by the Department of Justice, HID has also been added on to the Interim List of Eligible Programmes (ILEP), allowing the institute to recruit students from outside the European Union. The degree was developed during the pandemic for a new world of work and is welcomed by industry for its focus on digital skills and important modules such as Design Thinking, Enterprise Systems and Sustainable and Ethical Business which will prepare students for careers in sectors embracing this transformation - rethinking the future and seeking digitally-enabled graduates.

Chris Bustin, Director of Global Engagement for Holmes Education Group said:

“We are absolutely delighted to be the newest private Higher Education Institution in Ireland. Holmes Institute Dublin joins our well-established family of institutions delivering higher education provision across the globe. Our strong track-record of innovation and success in Australia, the UK, the USA and Canada means students will have access to a truly global programme with a distinctly Irish flavour”.

Dr. Eileen Buckley-Dhoot, Dean Academic of Holmes Institute Dublin added:

“We were delighted to receive a commendation at validation describing the programme as ‘fresh and innovative and representing a departure from the traditional business degree’ demonstrating our intention to be a breath of fresh air in the Irish private sector.”

The addition of Holmes Institute Dublin adds to a portfolio of twenty unique Holmes campuses around the world, welcoming over 15,000 students per year.
